

Daler-Rowney Vegan & Animal Testing Statement

Daler-Rowney does not use animal derived ingredients in most colours and mediums it produces. The only exception to this being the pigment Bone Black (PBk9) which is derived from animal origin. This pigment is used in the following Daler-Rowney Products;

Artist Oils

Blue Black – 033
Ivory Black – 034
Brown Pink – 215
Sepia - 251
Vandyke Brown Hue – 264
Italian Pink – 645

Cryla

Vandyke Brown Hue – 264
Raw Sienna – 667
Burnt Sienna – 221
Ivory Black – 034

Artist Watercolour

Ivory Black – 034

Hard Pastels

Intense Black – 031
Ivory Black – 034
Lamp Black - 035

Georgian Oils

Ivory Black – 034
Blue Grey – 133
Vandyke Brown Hue – 264
Raw Sienna – 667

Georgian Water Miscible Oils

Ivory Black – 034
Burnt Umber – 223
Vandyke Brown Hue – 264
Raw Sienna - 667

Designers

Lamp Black – 035
Payne's Grey – 065
Warm Grey – 1,2,3 – 075, 076, 077
Cool Grey – 1,2,3 - 080, 081, 082
Neutral Grey 2 - 086

Soft Pastel

Daler Black - 037

It should also be noted that Daler-Rowney Ox-Gall solution 114007005 and Kandahar ink 144028028, 144175028, 144100028 also contain animal derived ingredients (Ox Gall and Shellac respectively)

No Daler-Rowney branded products are submitted for any form of testing on animals